If a staff member is anticipating an absence from the workplace due to illness or injury, he/she should advise the supervisor of the expected duration of the absence and contact Rehabilitation Services for required accommodation support. The staff member should provide the supervisor with regular updates as to the expected duration of the absence.

If a staff member is absent from the workplace due to illness or injury for more than five working days, the staff member should provide the supervisor with regular updates as to the expected duration of the absence.

After the staff member has been absent from the workplace due to illness or injury for more than five working days, the supervisor should notify Rehabilitation Services of the absence and request the staff member contact Rehabilitation Services directly. The intent of the contact is for Rehabilitation Services to work with the staff member to provide supports and assessment for a rehabilitation support program.
